

Lafayette is currently seeking : an architectural intern

Lafayette is an urban planning and architecture practice based in Paris but with a nationwide presence, specialising in the complex territorial challenges of the 21st century. These include the revitalisation of suburban areas, the regeneration of city centres, the transformation of major carbon-intensive transport infrastructures, the adaptation of mass leisure facilities to climate change and the measured densification of the heart of metropolises. Founded in 2017, the agency combines experience in strategic urban planning and project management, so that the two visions feed each other.
